

MANY MINOR ACCIDENTS

Basil Jones, 18, of Boolaroo, a shopboy at Cardiff railway workshops, was taken to the General Hospital by Lake Macquarie Ambulance for the removal of a piece of steel from his eye.

Albert Davies, 35, of Selwyn-street, Glebe, a carter, suffered a probable fracture of his right leg when he trod on a stone while alighting from a cart. Newcastle Ambulance took him to the General Hospital.

Mary Lingard, 53, of Henry-street, Merewether, fractured her left arm when she fell down an embankment near the former speedway ground. She was treated by Newcastle Ambulance, and taken to the General Hospital.

Henry Fullick, 19, of Darby-street, Cook's Hill, fractured his left leg and suffered lacerations to the scalp, and shock, when a motor-cycle he was riding was involved in a collision with a motor-car at the corner of Parkway-avenue and Darby-street. Newcastle Ambulance took him to the General Hospital.

James Walters, 11, of Young-road, Lambton, received extensive lacerations to the right foot, and shock, when a motor-cycle collided with a toy cart in which he was riding in the street near his home. Newcastle Ambulance took him to the General Hospital.

Mrs. Lila Haywood, 28, of Zara-street, Willoughby, suffered internal injuries and shock when a motor-car in which she was a passenger was involved in a collision with another car on the Pacific Highway at Adamstown last night. She was taken to Fettercairn Hospital by Newcastle Ambulance.

Alexis Kouvaldin, 62, of Hinkler-street, Mayfield, suffered contusions and abrasions to the left ankle, left elbow, right thigh, and shock, when he was struck by a motor-car in Maitland-road, Mayfield, near Havelock-street. He was taken to the General Hospital by Newcastle Ambulance.

A puff of flame from a gas-stove oven caught the face and neck of Dorothy Griffiths, 20, of Murnin-street, Wallsend, and caused first degree burns.

WILLIAMS, 20, of Murnin-street, Wallsend, and caused first-degree burns. The Wallsend branch of Newcastle Ambulance took her to Wallsend Hospital.