

Uproar In Divorce Court; Girls Ejected

SYDNEY: Three attractive girls were dramatically ejected from the Divorce Court today for shouting and screaming interjections after they had given evidence for their mother, who was charged with desertion by their father.

One girl threatened to kill herself and another shouted, "How can you do this to us, Daddy?"

They were forcibly removed from the public section of the court by a Sheriff's officer, Mr. Jack Scott, and the judge's tip-staff, Mr. Arthur Mortimer.

Constable H. Pinch guarded the court to prevent them re-entering.

Their father, Eion Roshkovsky, 58, a cook, also known as Ross, petitioned for divorce from Olga Ella Roshkovsky (formerly Trager), 54, of Campbellpde., Bondi.

Both were born in Russia.

Mrs. Roshkovsky denied his allegations that she deserted him without justification in 1944, about 27 years after their marriage.

Evidence had been completed and the three girls, who had supported their mother's case in the witness-box, were sitting in the back of the court.

As Mr. W. Hutton (for Rosh-

As Mr. W. HULLON (for Roshkovsky) was addressing the judge one girl shouted: "How can you do this to us, Daddy? How can you tell such lies?"

"Will Kill Myself"

Screaming, "If you keep on doing this I will kill myself," one girl fled from the court, but returned shortly afterwards.

When they continued their interjections their mother advised them to be silent, and they told her to keep quiet.

Mr. Acting Justice Toose said: "If this man had to put up with what I have had to put up with during this case I feel sorry for him."

One girl then screamed, "They are lies," and the judge said, "There have been a lot of lies in this case, but not on the husband's part."

Following more interjections the judge ordered Officer Scott to remove them.

The tipstaff warned the girls outside the court that they could be gaoled for their behavior.

One girl then said, "There is no God. There is no justice."

They left the court precincts shortly afterwards. Judgment on Roshkovsky's petition was reserved.
