

THE D'ORLOFF CASE.

In connection with the case in which one Nicholas D'Orloff was convicted at the Police Court on Saturday, of a breach of the Defence Act, by wearing a uniform, and reported in yesterday's issue, Senior-Sergeant Brosnan, in addressing the Bench, said that he (defendant) was driven by Pastor Frank to the residence of Dr. Lohde, and he there got a suit of plain clothes, stating that he intended to return and bring back the clothes. Dr. Lohde called on us yesterday and stated that while it was true that the man had called on him, and received a cast off suit, it is also a fact, though it does not appear in the report, that he (Dr. Lohde) shortly afterwards proceeded to the Police Station and reported the matter to Inspector Short and Senior-Sergeant Brosnan, as he regarded the man as an adventurer.
