
HAULED OFF TO PARRAMATTA.

Nicholas De Orloff, one of the burrowing inmates of "Sing Sing," the headquarters of criminality at Berlin City, Limited, via Holdsworthy, who is alleged to have bluffed a military board into giving him a separate trial for escaping from prison, alleging that he was a Russian, but who was interned for being an alleged German spy, could not prove his nationality at the recent trial, and is now an inmate of Parramatta gaol, to do his little bit with his cobbles of seven months' hard.
