

A NORTH IPSWICH INCIDENT

At the Police Court yesterday morning, before Mr. J. E. Landy, J.P., Leonard Kelas was charged with having, on the previous night, in Down-street, North Ipswich, created a disturbance. Evidence was given by Constable Donald A. Campbell, stationed at North Ipswich, who said the defendant was yelling out in the street at about 11.15 o'clock. Witness warned defendant, and advised him to go home. He declined to go, however, and persisted in making a noise. There was a number of people about at the time. It was about the time for them to be going home from the pictures. Constable Arthur O'Donnell, who was present at the time, also gave evidence. Defendant denied that he had made any noise, and alleged that the police had arrested him when he was walking quietly along the street towards home. He was further charged with having made use of obscene language on the same occasion, and he pleaded "Not Guilty." After evidence had been given by the constables named, defendant was convicted on the first charge, but not punished. On the second charge of having used obscene language he was fined £2, in default seven days.

For your Exhibition Suit, C. W. Parslow, The Londo. Tailor, opp. Ipswich Railway Station.