

PERSONAL.

Mr. B. Remez, who is practising at Gurwood-street, Wagga, as an optometrist, and who recently offered himself for the war, went to Melbourne this week for final examination. Yesterday he failed to pass and was rejected, and will return to Wagga tomorrow.

The many friends of Dr. Tivey, of Wagga, will be glad to learn that he has made rapid progress from a recent serious illness and is so far recovered as to be able to resume his practice. A few weeks ago Dr. Tivey was prostrated with acute appendicitis and proceeded to Sydney and entered the Terrace Private Hospital. An operation was successfully performed by Sir Alexander M'Cormack, and the patient's health quickly responded to careful nursing, so that after a short period of convalescence Dr. Tivey has returned to Wagga, and received the congratulations of his friends on his restoration to complete health.
