New Tailoring Business.

For some years Moora has not had a qualified resident tailor to supply the wants of the district. That has now been overcome by the announcement appearing in another column of this issue that Morris Gershen has commenced in business as a high-class tailor and costumier, in premises situated in Gardiner-street. Mr Gershen has had considerable experience in all branches of the tailoring trade. For about four years he was with Mr G Purser, of Boulder City, and for over two years with Mr Arch Spoores of Kalgoorlie. He has also worked at some of the first-class shops in Perth. Mr Gershen hails from England where he learnt his trade before coming to this State. When war broke out he enrolled with the A.I.F. and saw service at the fronts. Whilst away with the forces he took the opportunity of taking a course in cutting at the London Academy and qualified both in the ladies' and gentlemen's sections. He comes to the town with good credentials and desires a fair share of the public's patronage. His prices are reasonable and he requests enquiries. All work will be done on the premises under his personal supervision.

Bottle - O

Mr Ted Hellewell, of Moora, has commenced in business as a buyer of bottles of all shapes and sizes for which he offers the best ruling prices. It is Mr Hellewell's intention to visit the farms, etc, around the district and collect all bottles there for sale. Will readers kindly note this and have all bottles ready pending his visit to their places.
