

"BEAUTY ON JAW" V

J.P. Assaulted

At the Central Police Court to-day Alexander Simula, aged 29, was charged with having assaulted William John Pearce, J.P., special constable, and manager of the State Labor Farm, Randwick, on Saturday last.

Pearce said that he was in a fish shop at Kensington when he asked his daughter and her girl friend to move away from the counter to allow the people to get served.

"This gentleman, the defendant," said witness, "then said, 'Whom are you ordering about?' He then struck me a real beauty on the jaw. He might have broken it."

Defendant said that Pearce "swung" at him, and he "swung back."

However, the magistrate, Mr. Hawkins, S.M., fined Simula £5, with the option of two months in gaol.