

WEDDING IN LITHGOW.

A pretty wedding took place at St. Paul's Church of England on Saturday afternoon, when Ivy May, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Shaw, of Pitt's Paddock, was married to Michael Elecoff, of this town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. A. Pollard. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a beautiful gown of crepe satin morocain with a court train of the same material, lined with shell pink crepe-de-chine, and trimmed with cream rose horseshoes and crystal beads; she also wore the customary wreath and veil. Miss Nellie Dowling, in a pretty dress of pink silk trimmed with crystal beads, with hat to match, attended as bridesmaid. Miss Dulcie Shaw (sister of the bride), in a frock of pink silk, trimmed with baby-roses, with hat to match, was train-bearer. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white roses and carnations, while the bridesmaid's bouquet was of pink roses and carnations. The bridegroom's gift to the bride consisted of a fivestone diamond ring; the gift to the bridesmaid was a gold bangle, and that to the train-bearer, a gold armlet. Mr. J. Palmer, uncle of the bride, was best man.

The reception was held at the residence of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Palmer. At the conclusion of this (after the usual appropriate toasts were honored) the happy couple left by the afternoon train for Sydney, where the honeymoon will be spent. The bride travelled in a neatly fitting dress of navy serge and black Lady Betty hat. Mr. and Mrs. Elecoff received numerous useful and costly presents from their friends. About 30 guests were entertained till midnight with a programme of dancing and singing.
