

TWO CASUALTIES.

Two Diggers found the march in the church parade yesterday too much for them. Tom Tarasowf, 46, who but lately was released from Rosemount Hospital, where he was a gas patient, staggered from the ranks as the men marched down East Sreet, and, in attempting to reach the footpath, tripped over a bicycle in the gutter and fell. Several persons rushed to his assistance and the ambulance was summoned. He was treated for a probable fracture of the left wrist and was taken to the General Hospital. Dick Newman, 43, was overcome with weakness and collapsed in the march. He also had to receive treatment from the ambulance.
