

STRUCK GUIDE POST

MAN THROWN FROM TRUCK.

When a motor truck skidded in a wet invert on the Condamine Highway near Range's Bridge last night James Cochura (54), single, who is employed on roadwork was thrown from the truck, and he received an injury to his right shoulder. He was brought to the Dalby Hospital and admitted.

Cochura and others were returning to work on a motor truck driven by Francis Hoare, who also is employed on roadwork at Kogan. When the truck arrived at the invert another vehicle was met. The truck skidded on the wet roadway and struck a guide post. Cochura was thrown from the truck.

Shortly after the accident had occurred the Dalby Ambulance car came on the scene, being on its way back to town. Cochura was given treatment and brought to Dalby.
